COMPROMISE RESCUES PARTY FROM THREATENED SPLIT OVER PEACE LEAGUE

PLATFORM ADOPTED AFTER MANY HOURS OF HEATED NEGOTIATION

CHICAGO, June 10.—Rescuing the party by an eleventh hour compromise from a threatened split on the league of nations, the Republican national convention today adopted a platform and then adjourned to nominate a candidate tomorrow.

Harmony on the league was reached after many hours, heated negotiation revolving about the sub-committee on resolutions but bringing into consultation virtually all big men of the party. In the end the irreconcilables and mild reservationists accepted a treaty plank drafted by Elihu Root before his departure for Europe, but revised in some details.

It condemns President Wilson's league covenant, upholds the senate in its rejection of the treaty and endorses the principles of an international peace concert in harmony with American traditions.

After marking time all day for the committee to complete its work the tired convention received with cheers the reading of the platform by Senator Watson of Indiana, the committee chairman and adopted it with a great chorus of cheers. It nearly drowned out a minority report presented by Edwin J. Gross, the Wisconsin member of the committee and signed only by himself. The substitute provided for the rejection of the league idea, advocated government ownership of railroads, and contained other proposals hooted as "socialistic."

Little Effect on Candidates.
The relative chance of the presidential candidates apparently was little affected by the platform agreement and tonight there was in evidence no development which changed the situation. So far as the talk of those on the inside revealed, the attainment of harmony over the troublesome treaty plank had no reflex on any of the candidates except possibly in the case of Senator Johnson. He will now appear on the convention floor and that is a disappointment to his supporters who had believed that the appearance of their leader in a treaty fight would help his cause.

In accord with the plan to finish up the convention's work on a skip-schedule it was agreed to convene at 9 a. m. and to hurry through the nomination speeches and remain in continuous session until a candidate is nominated.

Canon Entertains Delegates.
Chairman Lodge announced that the resolutions committee was on its way to report and the crowd demanded to be entertained in the meantime. There were more shouts for "Uncle Joe Cannon and Senator Lodge after explaining that Uncle Joe had asked to be excused suddenly produced the former speaker, looking fresh and hale and hearty on the speaker's runway. The movie men turned on the lights and shot a few yards of film while the crowd stood and cheered for "Uncle Joe."

Picking up a glass of water from the speaker's table, Uncle Joe held it aloft in attitude of libation enlightening the world. The crowd got point and roared. Mr. Cannon referred to the supreme court's decision upholding prohibition and declared solemnly that whatever individual opinion about it might be, the laws of the republic must stand. Then he turned to a toast to the convention and drank down the water. "I don't know whose going to be nominated," Uncle Joe confided to the crowd. "But I trust and believe that he will be a great success. I haven't seen the resolutions you will be called upon to approve but I feel sure they will deserve your approval."

At that point Uncle Joe turned and asked the convention managers: "Say, isn't there something else ready?"

Apparently nothing else was ready and Mr. Cannon went on for another moment and then gave his audience a "God bless you, and a good afternoon."

Then there were calls for Teddy. The crowd wanted to look at Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt who was on the platform. The band cut in, however, and the cries died down.

When the band got through the crowd wanted Teddy again. One of the song leaders took the platform and asked the audience to sing. A chorus of shouts, yells and protests answered back. The

Candidates Comment On Republican Platform

CHICAGO, June 10.—Governor Lowden announced that he would make no statement tonight on the platform.

"I will have no statement to make tonight," the governor said.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Senator W. G. Harding said he had not read the platform, but probably would have statement after digesting it.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Senator Poindexter, discussing the league plank, said it meant that the "republican party must and will stand against any surrender of the sovereign powers of this nation, bought with so much blood, and fraught with so many blessings for mankind."

CHICAGO, June 10.—Major General Wood tonight made this comment on the platform: "The platform adopted today is really more than a platform; it is a solidly constructed foundation upon which to base an appeal to the intelligence of the American people. Its declarations are such that all Republican candidates can wholeheartedly accept them."

CHICAGO, June 10.—Discussing the platform Governor Sproul said: "I am in entire accord with the platform. It expresses the Republican sentiment for the country. It is thoroughly American, it is constructive, truly patriotic and when put into effect by comprehensive laws administered with Republican thoroughness, it will restore our national self-respect and bring back to us the regard in which we were formerly held abroad."

CHICAGO, June 10.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler declared that approval of the league plank by all factions in the convention, insured the "fullest strength of the Republican party in support of conservative policy."

"The position of the party is made even stronger," he added, "by the defeat of the radical league of nations plank introduced as a minority report of the convention, and which received only the vote of the LaFollette delegates of Wisconsin."

CHICAGO, June 10.—Senator Johnson predicted tonight that the Republican candidate for president would be nominated tomorrow.

He trusted that the other candidates had the same degree of cheerfulness and the like quantity that I have," he added.

Somebody asked if he regarded the day's development on the league of nations as satisfactory. "It is a marvelous thing," he replied. "Here is a plan that is presented asking that we ratify the league of nations with particular reservations; that is what is asked; that is what we have opposed; that is beaten. There is no request, as I understand it, for the ratification of the league of nations at all."

"That, in itself answers all you desire to do," he was asked. "Absolutely."

Sensor Johnson declared he would start with a modest number of delegates, in the beginning of the balloting and that he had assurance of subsequent accessions.

Asked if he was still confident of success he said: "I am very confident. Very confident."

WIRELESS CALLS SAVE PLANE

Chicago, June 10.—Wireless calls for aid sent out by a government air mail plane which faced a descent in the dark, enabled the plane to make a safe landing here tonight. Delayed by a windstorm on its journey from New York to Chicago, the radio operator on the plane sent out calls while approaching Chicago to light the landing field, which was done.

ABANDON FRANCE'S RIGHT IN MESOPOTAMIA

Chicago, June 10.—At a session of the affairs committee of the upper of deputies Louis Barthelemy said that former Premier Clemenceau had abandoned France's right in Mesopotamia.

Captain Andre Tardieu read a letter from Clemenceau in which he stated: "Had I known the value of Mesopotamia I would never have traded them off."

TEXT OF REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

COLISEUM, June 10.—The text of the platform as adopted by the Republican convention today follows:

"Report of committee on resolutions:

The Republican party, assembled in representative national convention reaffirms its undying devotion to the constitution of the United States and to political and religious liberty therein contained. It will resist all attempts to overthrow the foundations of the government or to weaken the force of its controlling principles and ideals, whether these attempts be made in the form of international policy or of domestic agitation.

For seven years the national government has been controlled by the Democratic party. During that period, a war of unparalleled magnitude has shaken the foundations of civilization, decimated the population of Europe, and left in its train economic misery and suffering second only to war itself.

The outstanding features of the Democratic administration have been complete unpreparedness for war and complete unpreparedness for peace.

Unpreparedness for War.
Inexcusable failure to make timely preparation is the chief indictment against the Democratic administration in the conduct of the war. Had not our associates protected us, both on land and sea, during the first twelve months of participation, and furnished us to the very day of the armistice with munitions, planes and artillery, this failure would have been punished with disaster. It directly resulted in unnecessary losses to our gallant troops, in the imperilment of victory itself, and in an enormous waste of public funds literally poured into the breach created by the enemy.

In private industries we do not advocate the principle of compulsory arbitration but we favor impartial commission and better facilities for voluntary mediation, conciliation and arbitration, supplemented by that full publicity which will enlist the influence of an aroused public opinion. The government should take the initiative in inviting the establishment of tribunals or commissions for the purpose of voluntary arbitration and investigation of this issue.

We demand the exclusion from interstate commerce of the products of convict labor. The platform says that congress reduced the estimates submitted by the administration for the fiscal year 1920 almost three billion dollars and for the fiscal year 1921 over a billion and a quarter dollars and adds that "greater economies could have been effected had it not been for the stubborn refusal of the administration to co-operate."

"Despite the unconstitutional and dictatorial course of the president and the partisan obstruction of the Democratic congressional minority," the platform says, "the Republican majority has enacted a program of constructive legislation, which it adds, was greatly 'nullified by the vindictive vetoes of the president.'"

"Declaring 'the people are entitled to know how the parties propose solving those problems' the platform outlines the party's policies and program substantially as follows:

"Announcing that 'we understand to end legislative autocracy and to restore to the people their constitutional government,' the platform says the policies outlined 'will be carried out by the federal and state governments.'"

Industrial Relations.
The platform reads: There are two different conceptions of the relations of capital and labor. The one is contractual and emphasizes the diversity of interests of employer and employee. The other is that of co-partnership in a common task.

We recognize the justice of collective bargaining as a means of promoting good will, establishing closer and more harmonious relations between employer and employees and realizing the true end of industrial justice. The strike or the lockout, as a means of settling industrial disputes, inflicts such loss, and suffering on the community as to justify government initiative to reduce its frequency and limit its consequences.

We deny the right to strike against the district; but the rights and interests of all government employees must be safeguarded by impartial laws and tribunals.

In public utilities we favor the establishment of an impartial tribunal to make an investigation of the facts and to render a decision to the end that there may be no organized interruption of services to the lives and health and welfare of the people. The decisions of the tribunals to be morally but not legally binding, and an informed public sentiment be relied to secure their acceptance. The tribunal, however, should refuse to accept jurisdiction except for the purpose of investigation, as long as the public service be interrupted. For public utilities we favor the type of tribunal provided for in the transportation act of 1920.

The Republican congress, the platform says, "repealed the greater part of the vexatious war legislation," and enacted a transportation act making possible the rehabilitation of the railroad systems, "the operation of which, under the Democratic administration, has been extravagant and inefficient," "it adds that the act provided for 'peaceful settlement of wage disputes, partially nullified, however, by the president's delay in appointing the wage board.' This delay precipitated the outlaw railroad strike," it declares.

Other accomplishments were outlined as follows: Stoppage of the "flood of public treasure, recklessly poured into an inept shipping board." Preparations to create a great merchant marine.

Return of the telegraph and telephone lines to private ownership. Reduction of postage and increase in the pay of postal employees. Provided pensions for superannuated and retired civil servants.

Provide an increase in pay of soldiers and sailors. Reorganize the army and provide a powerful and efficient navy.

Established a permanent woman's bureau in the department of labor.

Submitted to the country the woman suffrage amendment, and "furnished twenty-nine of the thirty-five legislatures which have ratified it."

Provided relief for the consumers of print paper. Extended the powers of the government under the food control act.

Broadened the scope of the war risk insurance act. Made better provision for aged veterans of the Civil war. Provided better support of the maimed and injured of the war.

Made practical the vocational rehabilitation act. Passage of an oil leasing and water power bill. Cuts in the estimates for government expenditure of nearly three billion dollars.

Enactment of a national legislative budget law. Amendment of the federal reserve act to permit banks to lend assistance to farmers.

Authorized fee incorporation to develop export trade. Amended the rules of the senate and house to reform evils in procedure and guarantee more efficient government.

Pointing out that "the farmer is the backbone of the nation," and declaring that "the crux of the present agricultural condition lies in prices, labor and credit," the platform says, "this condition can be improved by practical and adequate farm representation in the appointment of governmental officials and commissions; the right to form co-operative associations for marketing their products, and protection against discrimination; the scientific study of agricultural prices and farm production costs at home and abroad, to reduce abnormal fluctuations; the uncensored publication of such

CANDIDATE WILL BE NOMINATED BEFORE ADJOURNMENT TODAY

Convention Will Meet This Morning at 9 o'Clock and Remain in Continuous Session

—First Thing on Program Will Be Nominating Speeches for Various Candidates—Expect to Finish All Work Saturday

COLISEUM, Chicago, June 10.—After adopting the report of the resolutions committee and thereby adopting its platform, the Republican national convention at seven-thirty tonight adjourned until 9 o'clock tomorrow.

There was no fight in the convention over the platform with the hard fought plank on the league of nations. An attempt to substitute a minority report went down under a landslide of noes.

When the convention reconvenes tomorrow morning it will be under an agreement to nominate a presidential candidate before it ends its session. All the nominating speeches are to be delivered, all the seconding speeches will be limited to two for each nominee and to five minutes each.

Under that agreement the convention must finish its balloting before it adjourns tomorrow night, leaving the nomination of a vice president for Saturday.

PROHIBITION PLANK LOST IN SKIRMISH

CHICAGO, June 10.—The Republican platform plank designed to deal with prohibition got lost today, furnished a new thrill for "wets" and "drys" and raised some question of its legal status. The plank does not mention prohibition but is a law and order declaration for impartial enforcement of all laws.

In a mixup, the plank was left out of the pile taken to the Coliseum. It was not read to the convention and was not in the platform as officially adopted. Chairman Watson and others in charge of the document declared it was adopted by the resolutions committee and is a part of the platform.

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, when informed that the platform "pointed with pride" to the Volstead law and also contained the general law enforcement plank, said it would prove satisfactory altho not entirely meeting "dry" wishes.

LEAVES ON RELIEF VOYAGE TO VIENNA

NEW YORK, June 11.—Fritz Kreisler, noted violinist sailed today for Vienna with more than $20,000 worth of "food draft" orders on the Hoover relief warehouses in Vienna. He will take personal charge of the distribution of food to the needy of Austria-Hungary who belong to the intellectual classes.

Thousands of professors, doctors, musicians, writers and persons of other professions are said to be in dire distress because they are too proud to make known their plight.

URGE INCREASED FREIGHT RATES

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The National Industrial Traffic League, thru its chairman, R. M. Field, of Peoria, Ill., today urged the interstate commerce commission to act without delay in granting railroads increased freight rates to the railroads. The present transportation system is deplorable in the extreme, he said. He estimated six billion dollars would have to be spent on the railroads within a period of three years and that at least a billion and a half dollars would have to be spent in addition each year for current expenses.

REVIVE HOPES FOR FINDING KIDNEPPED BABY

Norristown, Pa., June 10.—Hope of getting into communication with the kidnapers of 13 months old Blakeley Coughlin, revived today with the arrival of a second letter from Savannah, Ga. It was received by George S. Coughlin, father of the child.

The letter is identical with that of a letter received from Savannah four days ago. The letter says in part: "The child is well at present. I am into it now and don't intend to be caught at my own game. I don't need the child, but I do need the money." (The "money" heavily underscored.)

MADDOO CONVENTION VISITOR

Chicago, June 10.—William G. McAdoo, accompanied by Mrs. McAdoo, stopped over here to attend the afternoon session of the convention. They have been on a vacation in the west and are on their way east.

"I think national conventions are very interesting," Mrs. McAdoo said. "We are going to the coliseum this afternoon and sit thru to the end."

The much discussed plank on the league of nations is the one which had caused the long delay in bringing the platform before the convention. As finally agreed upon in the resolutions committee and accepted by the convention it harmonizes the views of the conflicting elements some of which had threatened to bolt the party.

Sensor Watson finished the reading of the resolutions to the accompaniment of a burst of cheering.

Edwin J. Gross of Milwaukee, one of the Wisconsin delegates at large appeared to offer a minority report on the peace plank. Evidently some of the delegates didn't want to hear him. There were shouts and some scattering hisses as Senator Lodge asked the convention to listen to what Gross had to say.

"I'll get the best order I can for you," said Senator Lodge, in an aside to Gross, "but I'm afraid it won't be much."

The convention seemed still in no mood to hear Gross and Senator Lodge, rapping viciously for order, declared:

"Gentlemen, Mr. Gross has as good a right to be heard as any other man in this convention."

Gross proceeded to read his report with intermissions of hisses, cat calls and occasionally cries of "Go home."

He managed to get along however with frequent interruptions and on some points where his report seemed to agree with the resolutions presented by Senator Watson, he drew scattering applause.

When he got to the point providing for government ownership of railroads, stockyards, etc., the crowd let loose again with yells of "No, no," and there was an uproar which stopped the speaker entirely.

Chairman Lodge admonished the convention that it would hurry its business if it remained quiet.

He served notice on the galleries that they would be cleared if further interruptions followed. With that, things quieted down and Gross went on with his minority report.

Cries of "Socialist" greeted Gross when he finished. Senator Lodge immediately called for a vote on substituting the Gross report of the resolutions committee. It was rejected by a rolling chorus of noes.

A RELIC FOR MT VERNON

A new relic has been added to the historical collection at Mount Vernon. It is the sash worn by Gen. Braddock when he fell mortally wounded. Next November there should be added the defunct peace treaty, as typifying the mantle of internationalism worn by Mr. Wilson when his political prestige was mortally wounded by the voters of the country in reaffirming their allegiance to the brand of Americanism set forth in Washington's Farewell Address.

RAIL CONSOLIDATION.

The New Haven railroad has petitioned for leave to restrain holdings of Boston and Maine stock, now in the hands of federal trustees, under a government dissolution proceeding. If this is permitted, the New Haven can do as it will with the Boston and Maine, the two forming the one big system in New England. Since the Pennsylvania road owns 53,000 shares of the New Haven, and each of them owns 15,000 shares of the New York Connecting road, there will be a physical as well as a financial connection facilitating the greatest railway merger in history. If the plans go through, the Pennsylvania system will have its own tracks from Maine to Missouri.

LODGE'S ATTACK ON WILSON

The "keynote" speech of Senator Lodge is a curious blending of scholarly rhetoric, genuine statesmanship and personal antipathy says the Globe-Democrat. One is first impressed with the diction, always admirable in the utterances of Mr. Lodge; then with the manner in which he marshals his sonorous sentences, as a general forms his lines, for the attack. And the attack, when it is launched, is not upon the Democratic party, but upon Woodrow Wilson, the man. Indeed, he makes a distinction between the President and his party, and intimates that the Democratic party has been betrayed by its chief, a position, if plainly stated would have support from a good many Democrats. "Mr. Wilson and his dynasty," he says, "his heirs and assigns, or anybody that is his, anybody who with bent knee has served his purposes, must be driven from all control, from all influence upon the government of the United States. They must be driven from office and power not because they are Democrats but because Mr. Wilson stands for a theory of administration and government which is not American. His methods, his constant if indirect assaults upon the constitution and upon all traditions of free government, strike at the very life of the American principles upon which our government has always rested." The peril inseparable from Mr. Wilson, he said further, "goes far beyond all party divisions. This is plainly the 'keynote' of the campaign, if Senator Lodge has expressed it. He discusses, it is true, the material domestic problems that confront us and the accomplishments of the long session of Congress in theme of his address, if we may express it concisely and colloquially, is "Get Wilson out."

A COINCIDENCE

Under the topic, "A Presidential Coincidence," the Indianapolis News says:

Similarity between the recent illness of President Wilson and the present illness of President Deschanel of France, is noted in a copyrighted dispatch from Paris, printed in the New York Times. The report first sent from France was that the president had lost his balance while opening a window in his private car and fell to the ground. He was able, according to the original dispatch, to walk to the nearest station, where he made himself known and medical aid was summoned.

The Times dispatch indicates that President Deschanel's worry and overwork, due to reconstruction problems in France, resulted in a slight cerebral lesion—the bursting of a minute blood vessel in the brain. "In other words," says the story, "he suffered what is commonly called a stroke." Continuing it says: "The feeling of suffocation, which is the concomitant—or, rather, immediately preliminary—symptom of such a stroke, led the president to open the window of his stateroom on the train to get fresh air. The stroke, slight as it was, caused a momentary syncope, and the president fell forward on the track." His present illness, therefore, is the cause and not the result of his accident, and the physicians who have him in charge have announced that he must have complete rest for a long period. Altho President Wilson's physician and his immediate family deemed it wise to keep the country in ignorance of his real ailment, it is understood that he had suffered a slight lesion and, subsequently, had lost the use of one side. Complete rest was prescribed and no one except members of the family and the staff of physicians was permitted to see him. He apparently is making a rapid recovery. At any rate his mind is as vigorous as ever and his spirit as dominant. He is developing a keen interest in the coming campaign and promises to have much to say about what the Democrats shall do in their national convention.

THE DOCTOR.

The doctor felt my throbbing wrist, whose pulsebeats seemed to lope; he said, "You have the hives I wist, and I'll prescribe some dope." And when I got the doctor's bill, a painful hour was mine; a sort of raw and clammy chill went sliding down my spine. I said, "It is a sin and shame, to tax me such a sum, and I shall climb that sawbone's frame, when next I see him come." And when I thought of all the toll it took to make him wise; he studied by the midnight oil until he sprained his eyes. He had to paw old mistle bones, and listen, by the day, to lecturers, whose misty tones would make a corpse turn gray. He had to physic pauper gents to get his hand in right, and if they paid him fifty cents he wept from pure delight. He had to travel muddy roads in midnight rain and storm, while I was writing nutty odes, serene and fat and warm. He often lacked a goose to eat when came his Christmas day and if he's now on Easy Street, he surely fought his way. He's charging for the skill," I said, "that long hard years have brought, and so I will not punch his head, or spoil his dome of thought."

Matrimonial

Pratt-Biggs

The marriage of Miss Florence A. Biggs of this city and Paul L. Pratt of White Hall took place in Deatur on April 9, 1920, according to announcement just made. The news of the marriage will come as a surprise to the friends of the young people, as the fact has been kept a secret. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Soddard and was witnessed by only a limited company of relatives.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seaton L. Biggs of this city. She has resided here all her life, and attended the public schools and the high school, and also graduated from Brown's Business college. Mrs. Pratt has been employed as cashier and stenographer in the office of Strawn & Spink, and her services have been of a most valuable kind.

Mr. Pratt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pratt, well known residents of White Hall. ## MEETING OF CIVIC PRIDE LEAGUE HELD

Was Held in City Council Chamber—Women Enthusiastic and Will Make House to House Canvass.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Civic Pride league was held in the city council chamber Thursday afternoon. About twenty-five ladies were present and all were greatly interested in the proposed survey work.

Mayor Crabtree, Ald. Ehnie, chairman of the public health committee, Frank Toudick, superintendent of the garbage department, met with the members of the league.

Plans for making the survey of the city were discussed in a thorough manner. It is the purpose of the members of the league to make a house to house canvass. Ald. Ehnie had had cards printed with rules for the collection of garbage. Mayor Crabtree also has circulars of the clean up, paint up program. The canvassers will leave these at each house and it is hoped thus to create a widespread sentiment toward putting the entire city in the spick and span class.

A copy of the rules relative to garbage and paragraphs from the clean up and paint up circulars will be published in Sunday's Journal.

Speaking of the movement last night Mayor Crabtree said that citizens must not look upon it as in any way coercive. It was merely extending the co-operative spirit that has accomplished so much for the city in other lines. He believed that all citizens would look upon this in the right light and receive the efforts of the Civic Pride league in the spirit in which it is intended.

If you missed the screaming bill the last two days at the Grand put on by Blanchard's Minstrel Mads, don't fail to see the bill today and tomorrow, "Madam DeLuxe." Its a scream from start to finish. Something entirely new. Mr. Blanchard, Mr. Emery and Mr. Kern are living up to their advanced billing in the comedy stunts they pull. Miss Julia Leighton is captivating as "Madam DeLuxe." Miss Agnes Leighton does a most wonderful dance. Mr. Banard again scores in a new ballad. Miss Lee is charming in a brand new song. Miss Mortimer again has a beautiful number. Miss Ketter has a very unique manner in singing one of the popular numbers, and has been said before, everything new and absolutely refined can be depended upon in the Blanchard Minstrel Mads productions.

Smiley Predicts $20 Flour.

Flour at $20 a barrel will come before the price of bread-stuffs begin to decline.

This prediction was made recently by E. J. Smiley, secretary of the Kansas Grain Dealers' Association, who delivered an address before the convention of the Trans-Mississippi Association of Master Bakers, in session at the Chamber of Commerce, Topeka, Kan. Mr. Smiley was one of the principal speakers on the afternoon program. He cast a rather gloomy outlook upon the prospects for a big wheat crop this year.

Barring financial trouble, bread grains will continue to soar for at least another year, he said. Even at that the price of bread has not been boosted as much as other necessities, he declared.

AT NICHOLS PARK.

The baby swan whose great adventure when a day old was recently mentioned in the Journal, is still at large with its mother and much of the time rides on mamma's back as the latter sails about the lake. Some varmint managed to get into the pen with the other baby swans and got away with one.

The east entrance is now in good condition and all people are most earnestly requested to enter only by the west road and exit only by the east. There is much danger of collisions. Red lights are going to be installed and all efforts made to keep vehicles going in the right direction.

On Sundays or at any time when there are many in the park automobiles will be allowed to park alongside of the playground. So many do this even on both sides of the drive, that there is much danger of collisions. There is a bad curve in the drive just north of the playground.

Central park is being put in trim shape as far as possible. There will not be time to get the concrete pavement around the base of the monument but the rubbish has been cleared away and the boards on either side, covering the places to be occupied by the fountain will be placed.

In Duncan park a watering system is being installed which will be a great help to the flowers in that place.

Reservoir park has been pretty well cleared up by the water department and looks much improved.

Text of Republican Platform

reports; the authorization of as-awaken in the youth the spirit of socia- tions for the extension of personal credit; a national inquiry on the co-ordination of rail, water and motor transportation; with adequate facilities for handling food; the encouragement of our export trade; and end to unnecessary price fixing and ill-considered efforts arbitrarily to reduce prices of farm products; and the encouragement of the production and importation of fertilizing material.

The federal farm loan act should be so administered as to facilitate the acquisition of farm land by those desiring to become owners and proprietors and thus minimize the evils of farm tenantry, and to furnish such long-time credits as farmers may need.

On citing of need of improvement in our naturalization law, the platform says, no alien should become a citizen until he had become genuine American and tests for determining the alien's fitness for citizenship should be provided for.

Independent naturalization of married women is advocated and it is declared an American woman should not lose her citizenship by marriage to an alien resident.

We demand that every American citizen shall enjoy the right of free speech, free press and free assembly; the platform says, "but no man may advocate resistance to the law, and no man may advocate violent overthrow of the government."

Aliens are not entitled to liberty of agitation directed against the government or American institutions. Every government has the power to exclude and deport those aliens who constitute a real menace but an adequate public hearing before a competent administrative tribunal should be assured to all.

Congress is urged to consider "the most effective means to end lynchings which continues to be a terrible blot on our American citizenship."

Saying equality of all citizens under the law has always been a policy of the Republican party and that "without obedience to law and maintenance of order our American institutions must perish," the platform declares our laws must be impartially enforced and speedy justice secured.

Liberal appropriations in co-operation with the states for the construction of highways, is favored.

In determining the proportion of federal aid for road construction among the states the platform says, "sums lost in taxation to the states by the setting apart of large portions of their area as forest reservations should be considered as a controlling factor."

Declaring conservation is a Republican policy, the platform says:

"We denounce the refusal of the president to sign the water power bill, passed after ten years of controversy. The Republican party has taken an especially honorable part in saving our national forests and in the effort to establish a national forest policy. Our most pressing conservation question relates to our forests. We are using our forest resources faster than they are being renewed."

It declares the federal government, the states and private interests must unite in devising means to meet "a timber famine."

A "fixed and comprehensive policy" of reclamation to increase national wealth and production is favored and congress is urged to adopt a policy to reclaim lands and establish a fixed national policy of development of natural resources in relation to reclamation through government agencies.

Praising American service men for their part in the World war the platform says, "we pledge ourselves to discharge to the fullest the obligations which a grateful nation justly should fulfill in appreciation of the services rendered by its defenders." It continues:

"Republicans are not ungrateful. Liberal legislation for the care of the disabled and infirm and their dependents has ever marked the Republican policy toward the soldier and sailor of all the wars in which our country has participated. The present congress has appropriated generously for the disabled of the World war. Amounts applied and authorized for the fiscal year 1920-21 for this purpose, reached $1,180,571,893."

Saying the civil service law should be enforced and extended wherever practicable, the platform commends recent passage by congress "comprehensive civil service retirement law and in working out a comprehensive employment and wage policy." Continuing the platform says:

"We condemn the present administration for the execution of the conditions of the postal and telegraph service when controlled by the government and for its failure to properly compensate employees whose expert knowledge is essential to the proper conduct of the affairs of the postal system. We commend the Republican congress for the enactment of legislation increasing the pay of postal employees."

On welcoming women into full participation in the affairs of government and the activities of the Republican party, "the platform expresses the hope that Republican legislatures in states which have not yet acted upon the suffrage amendment will ratify the amendment" so that all of voting age may participate in the election.

The party pledges to aid the solution of social problems thru national and state legislation.

The principle of federal aid to the states for vocational and agricultural training is endorsed. The platform says:

"Wherever federal money is devoted to education such education must be so directed as to awaken in the youth the spirit of America and a sense of patriotic duty to the United States. A thorough system of physical education for all children up to the age of 19, would remedy conditions revealed by the draft."

The public health activities of the federal government are scattered thru numerous departments and bureaus, resulting in inefficiency, duplication and extravagance. We advocated a greater centralization of the federal functions.

Favoring a federal child labor law and its enforcement, the platform says that if the present law be found unconstitutional or ineffective, we shall seek other means to enable congress to prevent the evils of child labor.

"We commend congress for the permanent establishment of the women's bureau in the United States department of labor to serve as a source of information to the states and to congress," the platform continues.

The principle of equal pay for equal service should be applied throughout all branches of the federal government in which women are employed. Federal aid for vocational training should take into consideration the special aptitude and needs of women workers. We demand federal legislation to limit the hours of employment of women engaged in intensive industry.

On pointing out that the housing shortage compels careful study of ways of stimulating building, and that "it has brought into relief the unsatisfactory character of the housing accommodations of large numbers of the inhabitants of our cities," the platform says "national and state governments should encourage the acquiring of homes by our citizens and adds that the United States government should make available the valuable information on housing and town planning collected during the war."

Federal assistance in Americanizing and educating its foreign population, home rule and rehabilitation of the Hawaiian race, are recommended for Hawaii.

Foreign Relations

MEXICO

The ineffective policy of the present administration in Mexican matters has been largely responsible for the continued loss of American lives in Mexico and upon our borders for the enormous loss of American and foreign property; for the lowering of American standards of morality and social relations with Mexicans; and for the bringing of American ideals of justice and national honor and political integrity into contempt and ridicule in Mexico and throughout the world.

The policy of wordy, futile, written protests against the acts of Mexican officials, explained the following day by the president himself as being meaningless and not intended to be considered seriously or enforced, has but added in degree to that contempt and has earned for us the sneers and jeers of Mexican bandits, and added insult upon insult against our national honor and dignity.

We should not recognize any Mexican government unless it be a responsible government, willing and able to give sufficient guarantees that the lives and property of American citizens are respected and protected, that wrongs will be promptly corrected and just compensation will be made for injury sustained. The Republican party pledges itself to a consistent, firm and effective policy towards Mexico that shall enforce respect for the American flag and that shall protect the rights of American citizens lawfully in Mexico to security of life and enjoyment of property, in connection with an establishment of international law and our treaty rights.

The Republican party is a sincere friend of the Mexican people. In its insistence upon the maintenance of order for the protection of American citizens within its borders, a great service will be rendered the Mexican people themselves for a continuation of present conditions means disaster to their interest and patriotic aspirations.

MANDATE OF ARMENIA
"We condemn President Wilson for asking congress to empower him to accept a mandate for Armenia. The acceptance of such mandate would throw the United States into the very maelstrom of European quarrels. According to the estimate of the Harbord commission adopted by the authority of President Wilson we would be called upon to send 95,000 American boys to police Armenia and expend $276,000,000 in the first year and $756,000,000 in five years. This estimate is made upon the basis that we would have only roving bands to fight, but in case of a serious trouble with the Turks or with Russia, a force exceeding 200,000 would be necessary."

No more striking illustration can be found of President Wilson's disregard of the lives of American boys or American interests. We deeply sympathize with the people of Armenia and stand ready to help them in all proper ways, but the Republican party will oppose now and hereafter the acceptance of a mandate for any country in Europe or Asia.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS
The plank on the league of nations says:

"League of Nations—The foreign policy of the administration has been founded upon no principle and directed by no definite conception of our nation's rights and obligations. It has been HUMILIATING to America and irritating to other nations, with the result that after a period of unexampled sacrifice, our motives are suspected, our moral influence impaired, and our government stands discredited and friendless among the nations of the world.

We favor a liberal and generous foreign policy founded upon definite moral and political principles, characterized by a clear understanding of and firm adherence to our own rights, and unfailing respect for the rights of others. We should afford full and adequate protection to the life, liberty and property and all international rights of every American citizen and should require a proper respect for the American flag; but we should be equally careful to manifest a just regard for the rights of other nations.

A scrupulous observance of our international engagements when lawfully assumed is essential to our own honor and self-respect, and the respect of other nations. Subject to a due regard for our international obligations, we should leave our country free to develop its civilization along the line most conducive to the happiness and welfare of the people and to cast its influence on the side of justice and right should occasion require.

The Republican party stands for agreement among the nations to preserve the peace of the world. We believe that such an international association must be based upon international justice, and must provide methods which shall maintain the rule of public right by development of law and the decision of impartial courts, and which shall secure instant and general international conference whenever peace shall be threatened by political action, so that the nations pledged to do and insist upon what is just and fair may exercise their influence and power for the prevention of war. We believe that all this can be done without the compromise of national independence, without depriving the people of the United States in advance of the right to determine for themselves what is just and fair, when the occasion arises, and without involving them as participants and not as peacemakers in a multitude of quarrels, the merits of which they are unable to judge.

The covenant, signed by the president at Paris failed signally to accomplish this purpose, and contained stipulations not only intolerable for an independent people but certain to produce the injustice, hostility and controversy among nations which it proposed to prevent.

That covenant repudiated to a degree wholly unnecessary and unjustifiable, the time honored policy in favor of peace, declared by Washington and Jefferson and Monroe and pursued by all American administrators for more than a century, and it ignored the universal sentiments of America for generations past in favor of international law and arbitration and it rested the hope of future upon mere expediency and negotiations.

The unfortunate insistence of the president upon having his own way without any change, and without any regard to the opinion of a majority of the senate, which shares with him in the treaty-making power, and the president's demand that the treaty should be ratified without any modification created a situation in which senators were required to vote upon their consciences and their oaths according to their agreement upon the peace as it was presented, or submit to the commands of a dictator where the authority under the constitution was theirs and not his.

The senators performed their duty faithfully. We approve their courage and fidelity and we pledge the coming Republican administration to such agreement with the other nations of world as shall meet the full duty of America to civilization and humanity in accordance with American ideals, and without surrendering the right of the American people to exercise its judgment and its power in favor of justice and peace.

Pointing to its fundamental principles we declare that the Republican party has the generous courage and constructive ability to end executive usurpation and restore constitutional government; to fulfill our world obligations without sacrificing our national independence; to raise the national standard of education, health and general welfare; to re-establish a peace time administration and to substitute economy and efficiency for extravagance and chaos; to restore and maintain the national credit; to reform unequal and burdensome taxes; to free business from arbitrary and unnecessary official control; to suppress disloyalty without denial of justice; to repel the arrogant challenge of any class; and to maintain a government of all the people as contrasted with government for some of the people, and finally, to ally unrest, suspicion and strife and to secure the co-operation and unity of all citizens in the solution of the complex problems of the day, to the end that our country, happy and prosperous, proud of its past, sure of itself and its institutions, may look forward with confidence to the future.

Compromise Rescues

struck the plank which declared for free speech and free assembly, but added that no advocacy of violent overthrow of the government or resistance to the law was to be tolerated. There were cheers when he struck that, and the convention rose and waved flags.

His mention of the name of Theodore Roosevelt, in connection with conservatism laws brought out another demonstration.

The foreign relations plank was the one the convention was waiting for, with its references to the peace treaty. Attention tightened as Senator Watson reached that part of the platform. It cheered the Mexican plank loudly with its attack on President Wilson's conduct of relations south of the Rio Grande and let out a cheer when Senator Watson started the portion referring to the league of nations.

The delegates followed him closely as he read the denunciation of the league of nations as brought home from Paris by President Wilson and the cheers broke out before he could finish the phrases on which the conflicting elements of the part here have been at odds for the last three days.

MISS RUBY CULLY WEDS F. C. KNOCK

Miss Ruby Marie Cully became the bride of Franklin Coblenz Knock Thursday evening in a pretty home wedding at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cully, 806 West College avenue.

The house was tastefully decorated with ferns and daisies and the parlor lighted with candles. Before the ceremony Miss Doris Schuman very beautifully sang "At Dawning," by Charles W. Cadman, and "Oh, Perfect Love," by D. F. Burleigh. Miss Ellen McCurley accompanied her on the piano and Miss Eloise Capps played a violin obligato.

To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin played by Miss Alice Bray the wedding party led by little Isabelle and Clara Belle Cully, twin cousins of the bride, appeared and took their places before a bank of ferns and daisies. Rev. Myron L. Pontius performed the ceremony. Miss Esther Davis was the maid of honor and Claude Cully, brother of the bride, the best man.

GREENE COUNTY PIONEER IS DEAD

Mrs. Nancy Davis Dies at Home Near White Hall Wednesday—Had Resided in County Over Seventy Years—White Hall News Notes.

White Hall, June 10.—The death of Mrs. Nancy F. Davis, widow of the late James E. Davis, occurred shortly after noon Wednesday at the home of her son, Norman Davis, four miles east of White Hall. She had been in poor health all winter. Complications developed, and for a week previous to her death her condition was critical. Tomorrow, the eleventh, would have been her seventy-sixth anniversary, and she has resided in Greene county for seventy years, coming with her parents from Iowa when she was about six years old. She and Mr. Davis were married in 1863, he dying in 1904. The children are, Mrs. L. E. Angelo and Mrs. C. E. McFarlan, both of Parsons, Kan., and Norman, of White Hall. The deceased went to Kansas in 1905 and spent a few years with her daughters. Funeral services will be held in the Christian church at 2:30 p. m. Friday, conducted by Elder Francis Fowler, and the interment will be in the White Hall cemetery.

The remains of Miss Florence Conlee will arrive from Kansas City Friday morning for interment in the White Hall cemetery with a short service at the grave at 2 o'clock by Rev. Leo Howard of the M. E. church. Funeral services were held at Kansas City. The young lady was employed as a commercial telegrapher by the Western Union at Kansas City. She was the daughter of Mrs. Amy Conlee, the family formerly residing here, her age being 18 years, the youngest of two daughters, the other being also in the Western Union service. She was taken seriously ill about two weeks before her death as the result of an attack of influenza, her death occurring late Wednesday morning.

Announcement of the engagement of Joseph Lyman and Miss Eunice Collier was made Wednesday afternoon at a gathering of sixteen lady friends at the home of Mrs. Danforth Potts. The date was not stated, but it is believed that the wedding will take place next week. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Collier. Lyman is manager of the Princess theater and secretary of the American Legion post.

The congregation of the First Baptist church has plans on foot to improve the church building and basement and erect a Sunday school room on the south. To this end a banquet to the men has been prepared by the ladies for Friday evening, at which the plans will be discussed and a survey made as to the amount of money available for the purpose.

An unusual derailment occurred in the Burlington yards here Wednesday morning when the tender and four cars of freight No. 77 went off at the south passing track switch as the train was entering town from the south. Freight No. 80, the stock train for St. Louis, left town shortly after midnight, and a bar had fallen from the engine of No. 80 and lodged in the point of the switch, causing the derailment of No. 77. The wrecking crew was summoned from Beardstown, and while under the derailed engine to disconnect the tender, H. F. Moeller, a car repairer of Beardstown, had an arm seriously scalded by hot water, turned on by the overalls of Engineer Roy (Buckshot) Bener, catching in the injector valve accidentally, and turning on a flow of hot water. The man was given medical attention. Trainmaster C. E. Kolf, also of Beardstown, had a thumb mashed so severely that it required the attention of a doctor. The morning passenger and a freight for St. Louis were derailed over the C. & A., between White Hall and Wann.

THE CLUB.

Few of the people may know of the literary organization known as The Club, an association of not more than twenty-one, which was formed in 1862.

It has numbered some of our wisest and most prominent citizens on its roll, but the rule has been for it not to seek or allow publicity regarding its proceedings, this being merely a matter of dignified self respect.

But The Club has kept a close observation on public affairs, and this has been evidenced of late in the matter of Americanization. The subject of American Day, and its intended effect upon new coming citizen as taken up over a year ago, at the suggestion of Prof. C. Spruit, and action was taken by the organization on that subject. Prof. Spruit and the Rev. Mr. Pontius of the Christian church, were made a committee on the subject, and were actively influential in the fine observance of American Day, some Sundays ago.

Thus Jacksonville was one of the first cities of the country to be in the matter of posting over new citizens on the possibilities of and properties of the high honor conferred on them by the great republic.

Jacksonville Chapter No. 3 R. A. M. will hold a special convocation this evening at 6 o'clock. WORK. LUNCH. Visiting companions welcome. W. P. Spillman, E. H. P. John R. Phillips, Secretary.

JOHN E. BRETZ MET WITH CITY OFFICIALS

Paving Contractor Talks With Board of Local Improvements About East State Street Paving—Wants City to do Concrete Work.

John E. Bretz, who has the contract for paving East State street was in the city Thursday conferring with city officials relative to the job.

Mr. Bretz met with Mayor Crabtree, Engineer Henderson, Superintendent of Streets White, City Attorney Belletti and Ald. Chapin in the council chamber Thursday afternoon.

The paving of the street has been hanging fire for several years now. Mr. Bretz was unable to do the work during the war period because of the embargo on materials. Since then many things have arisen that have prevented the work from being completed.

In preparing plans for the paving of the tracks of the Jacksonville Railway company the engineers at the almost unanimous request of the property owners raised the grade of the tracks at the intersection of Hardin avenue. This has always been a bad place and the raising of the tracks it is believed will remedy the condition.

Thursday Mr. Bretz said that the raising of the tracks placed the street in a much different condition than it was when he inspected it and bid on the job. He told the officials that when the street was placed in proper condition he would proceed with his work.

The work necessary is concrete work and Mr. Bretz says he has every one of his concrete mixers employed and cannot undertake the job. Hence it is up to the city council to do the concrete work necessary. When this is done Mr. Bretz assured Mayor Crabtree that he would be here within five days with the necessary men and material for the work.

Members of the Centenary Sunday school enjoyed an all day picnic Thursday in the woods about six miles west of the city. The pleasure seekers left the city about 9 o'clock yesterday morning, traveling in automobiles and trucks, and taking with them huge baskets filled with eatables. This is an annual affair and the picnic this year was one of the best in the record of the school.

The arrangements for the affair were under the direction of George Edman, and nothing was forgotten which would add to the pleasure of the day. The amusement committee included Mrs. Claud Vail, Miss Rena Chaney, Elmer Garey and Mr. Siegfried. There were more than 200 persons in the crowd and all participated in the merry-making of the day. There were various games and contests, including a baseball game, a sack race and a tug-of-war. Both dinner and supper were enjoyed in the woods, and in the evening all joined in singing some of the old-fashioned favorite songs. The picnickers returned to the city late in the evening.

STORY OF SOLDIER'S UNIQUE EXPERIENCE

Herman H. Phillips of Greene County is Soldier Who Awaits Arrival of His Own Body From France—Young Man's Death Following Chateau Thierry Engagement was Reported.

White Hall, Ill., June 7.—Herman H. Phillips' pleasure at being pictured in public print during the past fortnight as in the unique position of a soldier awaiting the arrival of his own body from France, has been brought to a culmination by the application of a moving picture artist for complete information that will enable the funeral being pictured. This request has induced Private Phillips to give complete account of his war experiences, and the terrible nature of the fighting at Chateau Thierry, in which he was stabbed, clubbed, bayoneted, shot, and gassed, and at the conclusion of his remarkable narration, he sighed, "I don't know how I ever lived to tell the story, but here I am, and have so far recovered that I am working every day on the section of the C. & A. at Berdan." Phillips is the son of J. Phillips of Berdan, five miles south of White Hall. When questioned over the telephone as to his own funeral being put in moving pictures, he promptly stated that he had better explain the circumstances of his "death," and drove to White Hall and made a detailed statement to the reporter.

Many Evidences of Wounds. Phillips was a first class private with Company E, 166th Infantry, 42nd Rainbow Division. He showed evidence of wounds received in the most sanguine engagement in the history of warfare, Chateau Thierry. There were dagger and bayonet wounds across the left hand, the right hand was crippled by clubbed rifle, and there was a gash across the top of his head, which he has never been able to explain, received in hand-to-hand fighting when five German soldiers pounced on him. Both legs had been broken, the right one above the knee and the left below the knee, all received in the same fight between 6 and 7 p. m. on the 28th of July 1918. He explained that these injuries "put me out of commission." On the morning of the 26th, two days before, two bullets penetrated his left foot.

Put Out of Commission. With his being "put out of commission," as he stated it, he had been given a hospital tag, and he and his buddy, Ray Berkshires of Washington, Iowa, straddled the radiator of an ambulance car that had been filled with wounded soldiers. As the car moved forward it was struck by a gas bomb and blown to pieces, the only thing tangible left being the radiator lying against the road embankment, and crawled off some distance before another ambulance came along and picked them up. They were conveyed to the hospital at Yohy, reaching there August 2. On reaching the hospital their hospital tags were missing. Here is where the story and record of Phillips' death had its origin. Following the destruction of the ambulance by a gas bomb these tags had been found among the remains, every occupant of the ambulance having been killed except Phillips and Berkshires.

Phillips remained in the hospital until his discharge March 19th, 1919, when he returned to his home at Berdan. On reaching here he found telegrams and other notices of the death of Lieut. Herman E. Phillips of the same company and regiment, but so far as known our first class private is the only possessor of the nearness of the name of the lieutenant. Phillips went to work Saturday and prepared a statement of his present status to the war department in order to determine whether he is officially dead or alive. He fears that his death might affect his standing as an employee on the payroll of the C. & A. railroad.

In Military Service For Years. Phillips' military service dates from 1912, when he enlisted in Co. K, 133rd Regiment, 34th Division, Iowa National Guards, and was called to the national service at Madison, Iowa, in September, 1917, going from there to Camp Cody at Deming, New Mexico, where he was engaged in training national army men, being assigned to the Rainbow Division in the following May, 1919, at New York, sailing almost immediately to France. They left their ship at Glasgow, Scotland, and traveled by train through Scotland and England to Liverpool, crossing the channel by boat and landing at Brest, France. There they boarded a train for Saint Agnon, France, and after 24 hours were sent to San Mihel Camp, where they rested and did some training.

The Rainbow Division was ordered into the fight at Chateau Thierry when the French and English were retreating in quad formation. The retreating armies cried to the advancing Americans, "For God sake go back; the Germans are thicker than hair on a dog's back." The reply of the Americans will always be remembered in history, and Phillips relates how he joined in the chorus of American voices in exclamation, "To hell with the Germans; we came here to fight." The Germans were within twelve miles of Paris when the first sudden attack was made by the Americans, whom the Germans looked upon as only Boy Scouts who couldn't fight, but the so-called Boy Scouts showed the Germans what Americans are made of.

Hand to Hand Encounter. The first three hours was a constant hand-to-hand encounter and slaughter, gas and every conceivable contrivance being brought into use to kill. At times the ground was yellow with mustard gas, and the air was full of chlorine from both sides. The Kaiser, crown prince, Hindenburg and other past German notables had feasted on French wine and beer in Chateau Thierry the night before the Americans made the attack, and the Germans were in their highest spirits to receive the Americans. The 77th Division came to the relief of the 42nd Division after three hours, and when Phillips left the field "out of commission," as he put it, the slaughter was still in progress. In twelve days there was not one left of the famed Prussian Guards.

A brother, J. B. Phillips, enlisted April 6, 1919, and is with the Army of Occupation in Germany. The last word from him was that he was dangerously ill in a hospital at Abilene, Germany.

WRITES ABOUT TRIP TO THE WEST

Charles H. Story Attended Convention of Realty Dealers in Kansas City.

C. H. Story recently, accompanied a party of men into western Kansas to inspect lands.
Writing from Garden City, Kan., Mr. Story had the following to say about the country:

"We left Jacksonville Tuesday night for Garden City, Kan., and had the good fortune to stop over a day in Kansas City, where the national convention of realtors was in session. There were over 2,000 delegates in attendance, and a livelier bunch you never saw. Among the topics discussed were, "Industrial and Business Prosperity," "How I Sold 550 Houses in a Year,"
"Real Estate Dealers' License," "How Realtors Can Help the Housing Problem," "The Financial Situation Building," "Building Material and Labor Costs," "Taxation," "Some Adverse Legislation," and kindred topics.

"A strong appeal was prepared by a committee from the convention to the agricultural department urging protection of farmers from excessive taxation, and asked for all encouragement possible to a greater food production.

"Further, it was urged that if railroads would do less advertising of summer tourists and joy riders, rates, and offer better rates to carry prospective buyers to the power settled parts, who may make new homes where there were no homes before, thus lessening congestion in some crowded centers and producing more food.

"The men of the party, about twenty in number, who were with us, looking over the irrigated lands north of Garden City, were amazed to see such development and such excessively heavy crops growing in the 'high, dry land of western Kansas.'

"We looked over a tract of 2,200 acres of highly developed irrigated land owned by one man, who offered any buyer $100 per acre for all the alfalfa grown this season on any land bought.

One man remarked, 'he had seen more alfalfa here in a day than he had seen before in all his life.'

"Wheat, such as our men had never seen, excelled, and fully headed now, goes with the land bought at this time.

"Thousands and thousands of sugar beets promise to help some in reducing the price of sugar.

"The future of our country shall continue as ever before to depend upon the soil for everything."

Boudoir talks with Sybel on how cocoa butter helps a tender skin

Every change in weather affects a tender skin. It burns in summer and chaps in winter. Sybel is real authority on such troubles and she says:
"A tender skin must be well nourished for weather extremes dry up all its natural moisture. Cocoa butter is the recognized skin food and Coco-Bloom—my cocoa butter cream—is cocoa butter combined with other ingredients beneficial to the skin.
"Rub the Coco-Bloom in until it is entirely absorbed—then wipe the face with a coarse towel and powder well. This simple treatment soon produces a normal condition and you can have any kind of weather extremes.
"Remember, Coco-Bloom is cocoa butter cream, and it supplies exactly what is needed to make your skin healthy."

Send 10 cents to Coco-Bloom Laboratories, Cleveland, Ohio, for a

"All right, Bill—
You can stop reading 'em"

BILL TOLD me.
HE HAD a good joke.
ON THE maker.
OF A well-known brand.
OF CIGARETTES.
LAST NIGHT, Bill said,
HE READ an ad.
OF THIS cigarette.
IN A magazine.
IT SAID "They Satisfy."
AND THIS morning.
IN HIS newspaper.
HE READ "They Satisfy."
AND ON a billboard.
AND ON a card.
IN THE street-car.
AND IN the dealer's window.
AND ON the counter.
HE READ "They Satisfy."
OF THESE cigarettes.
AND I asked him.
"WHERE'S THE joke, Bill?"
AND BILL said.
"WHY THE darn fools.
SPENDING THEIR money.
PICKING ON me."
SO I said, "You bought 'em.
DIDN'T THEY satisfy?"
AND BILL said "Sure.
BUT HERE'S the joke.
FOR OVER a year.
I'D ALREADY been smoking
THAT BRAND."

WE admit it, the joke's on us. And over three million other smokers are "in on it" with Bill. But the real joke is on anybody who looks for "Satisfy" anywhere but in Chesterfields—for the Chesterfield blend can't be copied.

LITTLE INTEREST IN STOCK TRADING

New York, June 10.—From an unexpected rise in call loans to 12 per cent and a slight increase of breadth and activity, today's stock market differed little from recent sluggish and inconclusive sessions.

The trend of events at Chicago was followed with greater interest, a moderate rally ensuing on news that an agreement had been reached regarding the treaty plank. Improvement was of short duration, however, another general reversal setting in when rails lost.

The maximum rate for money came just before the irregular close and afforded a pretext for further pressure on industrials and specials. Sales amounted to 400,000 shares.

The bond market repeated its recent irregular tendency in the domestic list, including liberty issues, most of which were lower. Total sales, par value, aggregated $14,675,000.

WEAKNESS DEVELOPS IN GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, June 10.—Extreme weakness developed in the grain market today after oats had jumped to a new high price record. Corn closed nevertheless 1/2 cent net lower to 1 1/2 cent advance, with July $1.74 to $1.74 1/4 and September $1.61 to $1.62 1/4. Oats finished at 2 1/2 cents decline to 1 1/2 cent gain. Provisions showed a rise varying from 7 cents to 70 cents. In the demoralization resulting from the heavy selling to unload while fancy prices could be obtained, the July delivery of oats collapsed in value as much as 7 cents a bushel.

"JUST ONE" GETS RESULTS EVERY TIME

Only Laxatives That Keep on Giving Satisfaction and "Never Wear Out."

The same identical result from the same dose, now or after years of use, is what you get from "Just One" that no other laxative can offer.

"Just One" cannot wear out or get your system accustomed to it, as other laxatives always do. You don't change from "Just One" to something else, because you are already changing with every dose of "Just One" you take. Twenty tablets, alike in appearance, but each a different laxative, and acting upon different organs or sets of organs, in each box of "Just One." You cannot take the same kind twice from the same box, so you cannot get your system accustomed to and unresponsive to these tablets. That's why "Just One" never wears out.

Keeps your whole system active and uncongested instead of bounding upon one organ all the time. This is the ideal, the modern, the scientific way.

You'll want "Just One" of course. Any druggist anywhere can get "Just One" for you or we will send it postpaid upon receipt of 25c per box. Ferritine Chemical Co., Council Bluffs, Iowa. Adv.

CLAIMS NURSE

Was Advised to Try Trutona Now She is Praising the Perfect Tonic

Springfield, Ill., June 10—"It's the finest medicine on the market today." That's what Mrs. Marie Woods, a practical nurse, recently stopping at the Collins Hotel, in this city, remarked about Trutona, the Perfect Tonic, which is winning the grateful praise of thousands of people who are now using it. Then Mrs. Woods continued and said:

My kidneys didn't act right either, and I was forced to take laxatives all the time.

"I came to Springfield, upon the recommendation of my doctor, that I find a warmer climate, and it was here I was advised to try Trutona. I am so much better now, and I can conscientiously say that Trutona is the best tonic I know of. I'm not nearly so nervous and I sleep as soundly as a log now, and my appetite is well. I just can't get enough to eat. Trutona's
